WILLIAM JONES, of Clinton,

The voters of Wisconsin won't condone any cheering over rebel victories during the war, Mr. Jenkins.

Blaine's triumphant march through Ohio will be followed next Tuesday by the triumphant election of Charley Foster.

The Republicans are hurrying up with their Legislative nominations. They are not only doing their work rapidly, but are doing it well.

It will be a relief to the Democrats of Ohio when they find themselves actually buried out of sight by 30,000 majority. For buncombe sake they have been "carrying" that State for three months, and when they are relieved of the load, it will be refreshing to them.

The largest Republican meeting seen in Iowa county for years was that held at Dodgeville on Monday night, when Attorney-General Wilson and T. M. Nichol, were the speakers. The Republicans in that part of the State are doing their share of the work to insure a rousing Republican victory.

Congressman Williams will open the campaign at Milton Junction on Saturday evening of this week. He will deliver a speech worthy of the occasion and an honor to the man. He will not smooth matters, neither will he deal gently with the ruffian element which controls the politics of the South. What he says at Milton Junction on Saturday will be sound enough and good enough for a Republican platform.

Mr. Jenkins will open the campaign for the Democrats next week at Madison. He will probably explain to his hearers why he cheered Jeff. Davis in 1862, will attempt to justify his good feelings over every Federal defeat during the war, and will take special pains to tell why he voted for the soft-money platform of 1877. These are some of the question at issue in this campaign, so far as Mr. Jenkins is concerned, and we hope he will meet them squarely.

The Republicans held a large mass meeting at Brodhead last night, at which Governor Smith and Thomas M. Nichol spoke Congressman Williams was also present, spoke a few earnest words, and then pronounced a political benediction. The meeting was the largest ever seen in Brodhead. The hall was taxed to its utmost capacity to hold the crowd. Governor Smith who was the first speaker, delivered one of the best speeches of the campaign. He devoted his time to a thorough discussion of the great question—"Shall there be a Solid South against a Solid North?" He struck the key-note of the campaign and did not make a discord during his entire speech. He bore down heavily upon facts, and stated the Republican position candidly, eloquently, and with a force and earnestness which elicited much applause. Mr. Nichol spoke for nearly two hours, taking the financial part of the question. While we think that time may be more profitably employed than by talking "currency," yet Mr. Nichol makes a strong speech on that subject, and is so vigorous in his language, and displays so much knowledge of the question, that whatever he says, never fails to attract attention and call forth demonstrations of applause.

A DISHONEST WARFARE.

As an "independant" paper the Milwaukee Sentinel is lending its aid to defeat the Republican ticket. Curtis, of the Harpers Weekly, claims to be a Republican but how does he expect to elect the Republican ticket in the State of New York by scratching it? The Sentinel claims to be opposed the Democratic State ticket but how does it expect to defeat it by bolting Republican nominations and by keeping up an interminable war against the leading Republicans of the State? Since that paper abandoned the Republican party it has been a stench in the nostrils of all candid and fair-minded men. It has been neither consistent, honest, independent, nor fair. While it pretends to oppose the Democratic ticket, it will not support the Republican ticket, neither will it speak respectful of the best Republican leaders in the country. It is devoid of consistency as a Hottentot is of civilization and intelligence. It pretends to be honest, but never practices what it preaches. It claims to be an "independent" Republican paper, but it disgusts all thinking men by its littleness, and by its continued war against the men who, in ability and personal and moral integrity, are the peers of the best men in the party.

The recent trouble in Eau Claire county has induced the Sentinel to "pitch into" Mr. Griffin, who was nominated by the Republicans for the State Senate, by charging that he is a "Keyesman," a machine politician, and that if elected, he will support Mr. Keyes for the United States Senate in 1881! Some of the Republicans bolted the nomination, and this being the case, another Convention has been called. Griffin is a young man of fine abilities, of progressive ideas, a staunch Republican and an indefatigable worker. That he is a Keyes man, or was in anywise pledged to Mr. Keyes, is wholly false. In a card published in the Eau Claire Free Press, Mr. Griffin said his candidacy was not in the interest of Keyes in any manner, that he was never pledged to him or to any other man, and that he would support no man for the United States Senate other than the best men whom the Republicans of his District would desire him to support.

The Sentinel has taken this matter up and taken occasion to make a fight over Mr. Keyes' head. It sees that Keyes certainly had a hand in getting Griffin nominated, because Griffin "is a tool of Keyes," and advises the Republicans of the Thirteenth Senatorial District to bolt the nomination of Griffin. This kind of a warfare is disgustingly small. Mr. Keyes is not in issue in this campaign. The questions of the hour are infinitely of more importance than that of a fight against him or anything Republican. The questions as to what Republican shall be elected United States Senator from Wisconsin in 1881 is insignificant when compared with the importance of the campaign in this State this year, and the mighty contest which must be waged throughout the nation in 1880. Whatever is said or done by Republican papers or pretended Republican papers, should be to encourage the Republican party, to support its principles, and to uphold and defend its candidates and its leaders. This is the plain duty of every Republican paper and it is no less the plain duty of every individual Republican, and the paper or individual that fails to stand by honest men and honest principles, is unworthy the confidence and support of the party.

The contest in Eau Claire was virtually between the two lumber companies. The Northwestern Company (Porters) support Griffin; and the Eau Claire Company (Thorp's) is opposed to Griffin. This is the long and short of the matter, and that the Sentinel or any other paper, should charge that the trouble grew out of anything that Mr. Keyes did to secure a vote for 1881, is as false as it is absurd.

CAPTAIN WOODMAN.

To the Editor.

We note with great pleasure the fact that Captain Ed. E. Woodman, editor of the Baraboo Republic, whom our citizens will remember as one of the speakers at the late reunion at Clear Lake, has received the nomination for State Senator from the Fourteenth Senatorial District; composed of the counties of Sauk and Juneau. He will be remembered by many of the citizens of Rock county, as the youthful and beardless captain of what was known as the Janesville City Zouaves, or Company B, 13th Wisconsin Infantry. During his three years' service as an officer he won golden opinions and respect from both rank and file of his comrades, by his quiet dignity, his martial bearing, his soldierly qualities, and above all his consistent manhood. So in civil life he seems to be winning the same golden opinions. For some years past as the editor of the Baraboo Republic, he has by his manly defense of the principles of his party, and his characteristic fairness and courtesy toward all opponents, won the admiration and respect of all classes of citizens, and receives his nomination for Senator by a popular majority, seldom equaled in political contests. While we congratulate Mr Woodman upon this deserved honor we may also congratulate his Senatorial District in having honored itself in its choice, for in the future as in the past, he will prove a wise and able leader in any position within the gift of his constituents. His name was prominently mentioned in connection with the congressional nominations of the Second District, last fall, and received the complimentary vote of his county in convention; but believing Mr. Caswell was the only man who could surely carry the District in the close and almost doubtful contest pending, he withdrew his name, and marshalled all the power of his paper and his influence to compass Mr. Caswell's election, but upon the probable voluntary retirement of that gentleman, at the close of the present term from the position to which he has been thrice elected, who more fitly and capable than the Soldier Editor and Senator elect from Sauk, to lead the Republican forces of the Second Congressional District to victory over the fiery track and loyal contest of 1880?

AN OLD COMRADE.

Milton Junction, October 7, 1879.

CREED FOR OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—The great prominent Southern Republicans who attended the meeting of Southern Republicans here have declined to remain in the organization, now that they have learned that the managers are simply seeking office, and that one at least of the most prominent, ex-Senator Poole, of South Carolina, has threatened to stump the North for the Democratic party if he cannot control the patronage of the Administration. Mr Poole never had much influence in the Republican party, and is not to be feared as a Democratic ally.

OBITUARY.

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 7—Dr E Watson, brother of Prof James C Watson, astronomer, in charge of the Washburn Observatory at Madison, Wisconsin, died last night, aged 35. His death was caused by paralysis. He was a graduate in the Michigan University in the class of 1868.

Merritt formed a junction with the beleaguered on Monday afternoon after heavy fighting, killing 37 Indians, thrashing them severely. The Indiant made a surrender, giving up their arms and ponies.

CHEYENNE, October 8—A courier has arrived from Payne, bringing letters of October 3. The Indians are still surrounded, and nearly all horses and mules are killed. A sally is made every night for water, and to remove dead animals. Several soldiers have been shot.

GENERAL GRANT.

Arrival of the Party at San Francisco from the Yosemite Trip—A Grand Fete at Belmont To-night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7—After a delightful and highly satisfactory trip to the Yosemite, General Grant and party have returned to the city, arriving this morning at 6 o'clock by special train from Merced. In the forenoon the General visited the Sub-Treasury and Custom House, and at 3 p m, left the city on a special train for Belmont, the residence of Senator Sharon, accompanied by that gentleman and a large party of distinguished people. Mrs. Grant and the remainder of the Grant party proceed to Belmont to-morrow morning. Wednesday evening a grand fete in honor of General Grant will be given at the magnificent residence of Senator Sharon. Fifteen hundred invitations have been issued to prominent persons. The Grant party are to be the guests of Senator Sharon until Thursday noon when he returns to the city, and at 1 p m sails for Portland on the steamer St Paul, superbly fitted up for the occasion. The party on board the St Paul will include General Grant, Mrs Grant, and U S Grant, Jr, John Russell Young, Mr Dent and daughter, General J Miller, wife and daughter, Senator Sharon and daughter, Miss Jennie Flood and brother, Mrs General McDowell and daughter, ex-Governor Lowe, Senator Jones and a few others.

The presentation of a beautiful pyramid casket, containing ores from California mines, which was to have occurred at the California Theater on the evening of the 10th, has been postponed until the return of General Grant from Oregon.

TRUE BLUE.

BOSTON, October 7—John Quincy Adams, Jr, has been nominated for Governor by the Democratic Convention.

The Convention organized in Faneuil Hall, Leverett Saltonstall was elected permanent President. On motion of Judge Abbott, John Quincy Adams was nominated by acclamation for Governor, A committee was about to be appointed to name the remainder of the ticket, when a delegate nominated Gen M T Donohoe for Secretary of State. There were cries of "No, no; he is a Butler man; give it to us straight." A gentleman said the person who named Donohoe was not a member of the convention, A committee was appointed to complete the ticket. Judge Abbott reported that Adams was out of town, but would take the flag of Democracy and bear it where the Convention wish it. [Applause.

A LEAP FOR LIBERTY.

MILWAUKEE, Wis, October 7—Dr A Bogusia, who was wanted for swindling parties in Plymouth, Wis., out of sums aggregating $1,000, escaped from the Sheriff of Sheboygan county last evening by jumping from the Wisconsin Central train near Random, while it was moving at the rate of twenty-seven miles per hour.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

BISMARCK, D. T., Oct. 7—The prairie fires burned four miles of ties and a bridge at Crystal Springs. The eastern bound passenger train was delayed over twenty-four hours, and the western nearly as long. Two train loads of Montana cattle left tonight for Chicago. The fires have driven all the chickens into town. The horses are covered with them, and the boys are killing them with sticks.

The fires are burning the country, but are not destroying any buildings as far as heard from. Mandan was saved by the citizens turning out and fighting the flames with sacks and brooms. The woods along the Missouri are on fire. The depots at the steamboat landing were seriously threatened, but were saved by hard fighting. The country between Bismarck and Fargo is all burned over.

THE MISSING BALLOON.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 7.—S. G. Partridge, of Pontiac, a responsible man, says that on Thursday last, about 3 p. m., he saw a large balloon well up near that city, going from west to east. Could see the basket but could not make out the inmates. He thinks it was the Wise balloon.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—The continuance of the hunt for the lost balloon, Pathfinder, leads inevitably to the conclusion that it was over Lake Michigan a week ago last Monday, very early in the morning; that it did not have gas enough to carry it over the lakes, and that it descended either in Lake Michigan or Lake Huron. No one entertains the hope of the aeronauts being alive.

POLITICAL.

GENEVA LAKE, Oct. 6—At the Republican Convention held here on Saturday, Mr. George R Allen, of Bloomfield, was nominated for the Assembly for the First District of Walworth county. He is a wealthy farmer and a staunch Republican. The nomination gives general satisfaction.

The Rapid Telegraph Company.

The American "Rapid" Telegraph was organized into a company in New York last February, and its whole capital of $3,000,000 was all subscribed during the following month. A simple announcement of its organization in the New York journals, with the Hon. Edwin Reed, of Bath, Me., a wealthy shipping merchant, as president, the Hon. Thomas Wallace, of Ansonia, Conn., one of the largest manufacturers of the State, as vice president, and a small board of trustees, of equal wealth and respectability, is all that the public has been permitted to know of its business purposes. And even now, six months after the public announcement of organization of the company, nothing is publicly known of it except that its own machine shop in New York, aided by Colt's extensive machine works at Hartford, Conn., are actively occupied in turning out a large number of novel machines, which are intended to accomplish 30,000, 60,000, and even 90,000 words per hour—say from 40 to 100 times more than can be telegraphed over a 300 mile circuit by the Morse system now in general use. By the employment of engraving steel, with the use of Canadian rubber plates and electroplated steel wires, the "Rapid" company claim that they can built telegraph lines that will rarely, if ever, be out of order, and never from storms, sleet, wind or other atmospheric disturbances. Taking all these advantages into consideration—machinery against hand work and the saving in maintenance—the American "Rapid" company do not hesitate to state the fact that when the Washington and Boston lines is opened to the public it will be possible for them to do a profitable business at the rate of 10 cents per 100 words, and so on at the same rate, without regard to distance, as the line extends throughout the United States. Indeed, it is confidently expected by them within the next three years to be able to telegraph ordinary business letters to and from all points in the country for 10 cents each.

BLACKBURN'S OWN STORY,

In 1869—He Admits the Yellow Fever Plot as Charged Upon Him, and Details All His Proceedings in the Business—A Period to Tell His Plan to Gen. Lee.

Dispatch to Cincinnati Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3—Dr. Luke P. Blackburn's own version of his connection with the yellow fever plot, during the war, has lately been repeated here by some gentlemen who listened to it from the Doctor's own lips in 1869. In the fall of that year he was a passenger on a steamboat bound up the Arkansas for Pine Bluff, at which place this Dr. Blackburn owned a plantation. One evening a group of passengers, of whom the Doctor formed one, were sitting on the guards, when the Doctor's arrival from Canada under President Johnson's amnesty, and the statements regarding his transactions in Canada, were alluded to by one of the group. Thereupon Dr. Blackburn proceeded to tell his story. He said that all that the Yankees were charging against him was true; that he had done his best to infect the Union armies, and that if he had succeeded the Confederates would have captured Washington and planted their flag over New York,

Being eagerly pressed for details by some of those about him, who expressed full sympathy with his efforts, he told the following:

He had first turned his attention towards finding yellow fever patients in New Orleans, but, ascertaining that under the admirable sanitary arrangements of Gen Butler fever was scarcely known in that city, he then proceeded to Charleston with the idea of visiting the West Indies for the purpose of infecting clothing and sending it to the Northern cities, and into the Union armies. He said that he laid his plans before General Beauregard in full, and that he approved them and gave him a pass through the Confederate lines, by which he was enabled to reach the North, and to cross from Detroit into Canada.

There he learned that the fever was then raging in the British West Indies, and he put himself in communication with the English officials, setting forth that he had had much experience in dealing with yellow fever, and would like to proceed to the English colonies for the purpose of rendering medical aid during the epidemic.

By the advice of Mr. Clark, a member of Parliament, he proceeded to London under the promise that he should be there fitted out to perform medical services in the colonies. From London he proceeded to Nassau and Bermuda. Before leaving he made arrangements with one Hyams to secure a large lot of clothing in New York, chiefly flannel shirts and blouses, such as were worn by the Union troops, and take them to Nassau. Arriving in the islands, he reported the yellow fever hospitals, and used the clothing, which had been brought under the arrangement with Hyams, about the beds and persons of such of the sick as he attended. A large lot of the clothing thus infected was committed to Hyams' care to be taken to New York and other points of the North, but much of it, through Hyams' treachery, or evasion of fear, failed to be used as he had directed.

When asked if General Lee was aware of his plan, the Doctor replied that he would not have dared to approach him on the subject, as General Lee would have been more likely to have hung him than to have approved his plans. He had only communicated them to General Beauregard and the only person he used was from him. He spoke with great exultation with reference to his plan, and expressed deep regret at its failure. He was entirely convinced that its success would have enabled the Confederate army to have overthrown the Federals, and have occupied the principal Northern cities. This is the story of the yellow fever plot, as told by Dr. Luke P. Blackburn himself. This Dr. Blackburn was then the owner of a plantation at Pine Bluffs, Arkansas.

These facts may enable Governor Blackburn to decide whether he was the gentleman who told the story to an admiring crowd of Southern gentlemen upon this steamer, bound up the Arkansas in 1869.

LIMA CENTER.

The new store and hall at this place had become near enough completed so that it was thought best to dedicate the hall part of the building, which was accordingly done on Thursday evening last. The weather during the day had not promised well for the success of the affair, but at a seasonable hour a crowd of about eighty persons assembled, and after a general converse of an hour or two, Mr. James Hull, acting as chief floor manager, called for the order of the evening, the first of which was a prayer by the Rev Mr Caton of the Scotch Presbyterian church. A choir of singers whose names are too numerous to mention, under the leadership of Prof O A Wheeler gave us "Ring, Ring the Bells" Ritt Cravath, Esq., editor Whitewater Chronicle, and Rev Mr Caton made able and entertaining addresses, the choir putting in more music at the proper places and time by way of variety. The supper arranged in the store room below stairs, was splendid, reflecting much credit to the taste and management of Mr and Mrs Holbrook and their assistants. A vote was taken thanking the speakers and singers, when the company dispersed, each one apparently well satisfied with the evening's entertainment. Perhaps this sketch will be more complete by narrating a little circumstance which happened, going to show that the most ludicrous incidents sometimes happen when least expected The reverend gentleman in the course of his remarks was saying that people should not be afraid to stand side by side in any good cause, when what should appear directly at his side but one of the most wretched looking cats that ever wore fur pointing the wrong way. The boy who put the feline into the room must not do so any more. The speaker, immediately, if not sooner, yielded the floor amid an uproar of applause.

—Rev Mr Wilson who is attending conference in Milwaukee, is expected to be back by the middle of the week, and there will be preaching in M E church next Sabbath.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—Mr E P Frink is able to be out again but looking as though he had had a tough siege.

—A O Vincent, went to St. Louis, last week to attend the Missouri State Fair in the interest of the Minnesota Chief Thresher —Uncle Seely Monroe, left last week for Alfred, New York, where he will probably spend the winter visiting.

—The burly form of landlord Taylor of Clinton was seen upon our streets on Monday riding out with landlord Stetson, behind the big mare. Mr Stetson, is prudent in all he does, and, although he has several nice spring buggies he left them all home and hooked on to a heavy three spring wagon, which he doubtless felt sure would stand the racket.

—The statement in last weeks items that J G Carr, and wife had gone on a pleasure trip to Omaha was a mistake, based on wrong information, Howell, Michigan, being their point of destination. They returned last week, and report a pleasant time.

—Hon. S C Carr, wife and daughter start on Thursday for quite an extended trip in the East visiting their daughter, Mrs. King, at Springfield, Mass., and taking in Boston and numerous other prominent cities and points of interest.

—Mrs David Burdick is paying a brief visit to her friends in Ohio.

—Campbell seems to be taking a rest. There seems to be a scarcity of grain stacks this season to keep machinery running.

—If this is not Indian Summer, what is it?—88 degrees in the shade is very summery to say the least.

—Uncle Henry Crandall and wife, now of Edgerton, spent last week in town fixing up their old home and visiting their old neighbors.

—Dr Frink's new house, although not yet completed, received its first christening one night last week in a hop by the young folks.

—Miss Myrtie Larkin was home from her school on Saturday and Sunday last.

—Rev Mr Davis, now a student in the college, occupied the pulpit at the new church Saturday morning.

—The regular session of the Ladies, Aid Society will be held at the new church on the Thursday evening.

—Mr. Elbert Fuller, who for some years past has been engaged in the insurance business, in Friendship, N. Y., together with his wife, has arrived in town, and informs us that it is his purpose to take up his residence upon the Fuller farm near this village. We are glad to welcome Mr Fuller back to his old home.

—Mr C H Palmer has sold his farm on the River road to Mr. Alex. Paul, and is to give possession November 1st.

—Uncle Billy Morgan is laying out further improvements in his park enterprise. He proposes to remove the old high board fence north of the hotel, and continue his west side park clear up to the hotel, which will add largely to the already beautiful surroundings of the hotel.

—Mr C S Jaynes started on Monday, of last week, for the west, while his ultimate destination is North Loupe, Nebraska. He will stop for a time in Woodbury county, Iowa. His wife accompanied him, they proposing to make the west their future home.

—Mr James Campbell returned on Monday from a short business trip to Iowa

FOOTVILLE.

—The missionary concert, which was held in the M E church was a success in every respect. The house was crowded to overflowing, and the exercises, which consisted of declamations, colloquies, essays, songs, etc., were listened to with great interest, and when the usual collection was taken nearly all attested their appreciation of the effort by giving generously of their specie. Quite a sum was thus raised, which will serve to increase the funds of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

—Messrs George and Alfred Snyder, who have been in Minnesota the past summer, returned last Saturday. Both are looking well and hearty. We are glad to have them back, and hope they may remain with us for some time.

—Mr H A Richards, formerly of this place, but now practicing law in Janesville, was out last Sunday greeting his old acquaintances.

—Mrs C H Furgeson has been quite sick for several days, but is now somewhat on the mend.

—The latest event, and the most enjoyable occasion, was the gathering at the residence of the late Isaac Hawk, in Center, to dedicate the piano recently purchased. The piano is one of Kimball's upright pianos, manufactured by Bradbury, of New York and is a fine toned an instrument as one could wish to hear. Mr. Fisher, the gentlemanly agent, was accompanied by Prof. Bolton, of Chicago, who entertained the company very pleasantly with his selections. Mr. Fisher sang some very amusing songs, and Mr. Hunt drew some very sweet music from his violin. "Old Black Joe" was very sweetly rendered by Mr. Fisher, Miss Lottie, and Fred Bemis. About seventy-five guests were present, and about midnight all sat down to the tables and partook of the bounteous repast prepared. After supper all amused themselves in various ways until a late hour, when the party broke up. The occasion is one long to be remembered by those who were present, and all hope to be able to attend the next piano dedication wherever it may be.

—Mr. Jud. Hawk leaves, this week, for Dakota, where he intends to purchase land. He will be gone but a short time.

—Mr. D. Owen has been on the sick list the past week.

—Mr. Dwight Purdy returned from his Iowa trip last Sunday, and reports a very pleasant time.

—We noticed several of our Whitewater students at home last Sunday. They do get homesick once in a while.

—The Grove Cemetery Association have wonderfully improved the appearance of the cemetery by mowing the weeds and grass, and trimming things up generally. This is a work long needed, and though they have been slow, the work is well done.

—Miss Ella Beach, who has been attending school at Madison, is home on a sick furlough.

—Mr. J. Cory sold his '79 crop of Spanish tobacco for 14 cents.

MILTON.

—Jno. Barnhart and family left this week for Algona, Iowa, where he intends to engage in farming. He shipped his household goods and stock by rail, and the folks took possage in a prairie schooner.

—F L McCraken, agent of the St. Paul Company at Wadsworth, Illinois, was in town this week, visiting his parents.

—Rev A L P Loomis is having quite a run of weddings of late. Since Mr J C Plumb and Mrs Jane Cole started the ball rolling, less than a month ago, he has been called upon to marry Mr Myron Field and Miss Jennie Wood, of Janesville, Mr. Wm. Arndt and Miss Mary Monaghan, of Harmony, and last Wednesday evening, Mr. Wm. S. Swaney and Miss Fannie Blaisdell. He says he is perfectly willing that the run should continue.

—The Milton Literary Circle starts up anew this fall, with every indication of a grand success. The meeting next Monday evening is with Miss Bond.

EMERALD GROVE.

—Mr J M Cummings was walking along the sidewalk in Clinton last Monday and stepped into a hole, spraining his foot badly. He thinks the Clinton folks ought to have more enterprise.

—We were glad to receive a call from Mr M C Stoller a few days ago, he was able to ride to the Grove and is improving in health and strength quite fast.

—Mr. Heller had a bee last Saturday and got twenty-one loads of stone from Turtle Creek for his cellar.

—Squire & Munger are paying 12½ cents for eggs.

CATARRH

Catarrh of the Nasal Cavities, Acute, Chronic, and Ulcerative, Hay Fever, or Rose Catarrh, Catarrh of the Eye and Ear, and Catarrh of the Throat.

SUCCESSFULLY TREATED WITH

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

CATARRH is a disease of the mucous membrane. Temperaments and constitutions vary its severity in individual cases. Catarrh may arise from a cold or a succession of colds, from sudden change of atmosphere, wearing wet clothing, or exposure to inclement weather, and becoming thoroughly chilled when the digestive organs are in a morbid or inactive condition, and the strength and vital forces exhausted. The disease may arise from a scrofulous condition of the blood, from Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Diphtheria, in which cases the eyes and ear are generally involved and discharge quantities of matter. The discharges from the nose, the distinctive feature in all catarrhal cases from whatever cause they arise, may be thin and watery, and so acid as to cause redness and excoriation of the skin with which they come in contact, or thick and yellowish, emitting a foul odor, or clear and white like the white of an egg. There may be an entire lack of secretion, the surfaces being dry and feverish, the face, front and upper part of the head feeling uncomfortable, and as if it was encircled by a tight, unyielding band. This latter phase is called Dry Catarrh. The free mattery discharges cause the passages to swell and become thickened, rendering breathing through the nose difficult or impossible, and the sufferer finds it necessary to breathe through the mouth, thereby permitting cold air to pass directly to the bronchial tubes and lungs. The matter passing down the throat creates a constant desire to hawk and expectorate to throw it off; but when the membrane is dry and feverish, instead of passing freely down from the nose and throat, the mucus becomes hard and forms into scabs, incrustations, and hard lumps, which adhere so firmly to the nasal passages and throat as to require very persistent efforts to dislodge them. The eye in sympathy becomes inflamed, red, weak, and watery, or in the morning the lids may be found glued together, and matter is secreted in more or less quantity. The ear also becomes seriously affected, discharging quantities of matter, besides being visited by the most violent neuralgic pains, exciting frequently in Inflammation, ulceration, and finally deafness. The throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs are in many cases affected by catarrh, and when prostration of the nervous system is superadded, such affections become alarming.

A brief survey of this most serious disease warns all who are afflicted with it to make speedy preparation for its treatment before it becomes chronic. The advantages offered by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE we confidently believe are to be found in no other remedy. Every step in its preparation, every line in the directions, mark it as a scientific remedy, calculated to meet every phase of the disease. The numerous testimonials from the best people in the United States attest the esteem in which it is held by those who have been freed from the most destructive and dangerous disease with which mankind is to-day afflicted

—THE—
"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

SHAPE & SIZE OF A SEMINAL PASTILLE

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc., Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation, Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. ——During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3.—Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5.——Three boxes lasting three full months, will stop emissions, and restore vigor, in the worst cases. $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—The Young Men's Christian Association meet to-night.

—Justice Brooks had a rather stylish wedding party at his office yesterday.

—The Stanley case has been again adjourned for argument until Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—The Royal Arcanum meets to-night at the Temple of Honor hall which they are to occupy hereafter in conjunction with the Temple.

—As will be seen by the list of appointments published in another column, there have been no changes among the Methodist preachers here.

—The First Methodist church folk socialize to night at the residence of Mr. Charles Preller, two doors east of the Congregational church. All are welcome to a share in the good time.

—The Daily Times comes to us with a happy face. It has grown big enough now to lay aside the little jacket, and wear suspenders and boots, and seems proud over it. It has a right to feel so. Wilson & Tousley are editors, and as a consequence the Times is sprightly. We congratulate the Times on its growth to a sixteen column sheet.

—There was a rousing meeting at Brodhead last night, the hall being packed to overflowing with those anxious to hear Governor Smith and Hon. Thomas M. Nichol. Many could not get in, every inch of standing room being taken. The crowd was enthusiastic, and showed their appreciation of the strong points made by the speakers.

—A fellow will hunt around for a job of work, and pull every possible wire to get it, and yet when public announcement is made of the fact it is always put in Mr. Blunk has concluded to accept the proffered position of ease," just as though he had a dozen offers, and a host of would-be employes trying to secure his services. That's another one of custom's freaks.

—Hiram Bowen, formerly of the Gazette, and ex-postmaster of this city, arrived here this morning and is most cordially greeted by his many old friends. He now makes his home in Dakota where he has a ranche. He has a postoffice in his own house and the place is called Martella, being named after his two daughters Martha and Ella, the former of whom is now married and living in Sioux City, and the other being now at home, with his son Marvin. Mrs. Bowen is now visiting in Columbia county in this State, and expects to be here soon. Mr. and Mrs. Bowen will spend some time visiting their son-in-law —S. Bell and family, of Beloit.

NOT SO FUNNY.

The other evening a little knot of young men were gathered in front of Brook's saloon amusing each other, when Otto Hoffman proposed to wrestle with one of the crowd. As the match began Otto took off his coat and handed it to Charlie Hilt to hold for him. When he got through and went for his coat he could not find it, and young Hilt too was nowhere about. Otto afterwards learned that Hilt had left town and gone to Beloit. Hilt was sent for and called to answer a charge of stealing the coat. He explained that at the suggestion of some of the crowd, he hid the coat for fun, placing it in a closet in the back part of the saloon. Soon after he had hidden the coat, some one wanted him to go to a wake, and he started off leaving directions for some of the others to get the coat for Otto, when the fun was over. The coat has not turned up yet, and it is claimed by Hilt that some one else must have stolen it from the closet after he left. He also says that he had to go to Beloit to work there, which accounted for his leaving town so soon. Justice Prichard listened to the evidence, and concluded that there was enough to hold Hilt for trial, as no one had seen the coat after he had it. Hilt gave bail of $200 to appear before the Circuit Court.

HYMENEAL.

LAWRENCE—FENDRICKSON.

Married, at 11 a. m. to-day (Wednesday) at the residence of Rev. A. D. Hendrickson, his eldest daughter, Mary Louise, and Mr Hubert S. Lawrence, son of our esteemed townsman, Frank Lawrence, Esq. The ceremony was performed by Rev Henry Sewell, pastor of the First Methodist church, using the beautiful marriage ceremony of that church. There were present besides the parents and relatives, a few personal friends from Janesville, Kenosha, and Milwaukee. The presents were very beautiful, though none more so than the lovely bride and her amiable husband. They each have won a prize in each other. After the ceremony the company, to the number of twenty, first sat down to a bountiful repast, after which the couple left on the 2:30 p. m. train for a short wedding trip. May their pleasures and prosperity attend them.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.

J. C. Smith, alias Pegan, and Johnny Hegeny were brought before Justice Prichard yesterday afternoon on a charge of robbing Dr. James. The examination was put over until this afternoon, and Hegeny postponed, as the victim was not well enough to appear, although he is getting along nicely considering his bruises. The bail was fixed at $1,000 for Hegeny and $1,000 for Hegeny, but there being no bondsmen the prisoners were taken back to jail. As stated in Yesterday's Gazette, James identified Hegeny when he was brought before him Yesterday afternoon Pegan, or, as he calls himself, J. C. Smith was brought before James and was also identified. Hegeny claims to have witnesses to show that he remained at the brewery during the time in which the assault took place, and Pegan says the man got hurt by falling out of the buggy as they were driving along, and that he went off and left him lying there. The prosecution claim to have secured a number of witnesses whose testimony will show that this statement of Pegan's at least is far from the truth.

A FLIGHT FOR LIFE.

Baumgarten's Whereabouts at Last Made Known.

How He was Taken from Jail, and the Road He Travelled.

Incidents of the Trip.

The public has for some days been greatly excited by curiosity as to how Baumgarten was run out of jail, and where he was taken for safe keeping. The Gazette is now able to satisfy this curiosity, and to give the people a glimpse of some of the scenes of that exciting night, which have heretofore been wrapt in mystery.

When the news reached here that there was an organized attempt to be made to lynch the prisoner, preparations were at once made to remove him from the jail, where the crowd could not reach him. The advance guard of the crowd had already been placed on duty on the streets of the city, and were watching every turn and corner to prevent the officers taking the prisoner away, and to hold the ground until the crowd could come here. It became necessary to avoid these pickets. Some inkling got out that Constable Drake was the one who was to take the prisoner away, and this proved to be true. Drake was watched closely and he knew it. He arranged however, with a livery stable for a team and covered buggy, but was shrewd enough not to attempt to drive it out of the barn, but started off on foot. He walked along the street, darting up one alley way, then down another, and in this way dodged away from the crowd, until he reached a convenient corner where he met the livery team, and jumping quickly into the buggy drove to the jail, having completely outwitted those who were watching his doings.

In the meantime, Baumgarten had been told "to dress for his line." He knew what that meant, and never were clothes slat on with a more frightened hurrying than were his. Although sore nearly to fainting he pulled on his garments in haste, his form quivering with fright. He was handcuffed, and led down stairs, where for a few moments he sat impatiently awaiting the coming of Officer Drake and the carriage. The fellows hands shook so, as he sat there, that the links of the iron chain joining them, rattled loudly. He had not long to wait. At the sound of wheels, he jumped up, and was soon hurried out of doors, and in a minute more was seated in the buggy, and rolling rapidly out into the country.

The horse had fleet feet and were urged along at a speedy gait. There was no stopping for hills or ruts. Whirling along the road thus, could the crowd have seen two forms in that buggy, they would have had all their attention drawn to a slight boyish figure, crouched down in one corner as he could squeeze himself, his face as white as chalk and his form trembling with fright. A slouched hat was pulled down over the upper part of his blanched face, but not far enough to shut off the queer glitter of two steel eyes, which gave piercing glances from side to side, while the figure would occasionally turn about and the same eyes would gleam excitedly through the little glass in the back of the carriage top, striving to see something they dreaded to see. The moon shone brightly, and its gleams enter d the shadow of the buggy-top just enough to make a ghastly light surround this figure. With a coat of light color, and a face of chalk, he looked like a ghost rather than human. Shrinking back in the shadow he sat there mute while the officer kept up the speed of the team, until at half-past eleven, there had been twelve miles travelled, and there was a sigh of relief come from the ghastly figure as he was assured that he was probably out of reach of any pursuit.

There were so many turns on the road through for him to feel easy. One fleet-footed span of horses drove by them, and then slacking up were passed, and again drove by at a rapid gait. It looked suspicious. Another team was soon overhauled. Both teams kept up a lively gait, keeping not a great distance from the officer and the prisoner, and this state of things existed for some miles, but finally away they sped and the road from then on was comparatively clear. The officer and the prisoner arrived at Elkhorn at half-past one o'clock, and Baumgarten was soon safely locked in the cell of the new jail.

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Comstock went to Elkhorn and last evening took the prisoner out and he was again whirled away, but this time by the faster wheels on an iron track, and by train was taken to Milwaukee and safely locked up again in the jail where he will remain until such time as his case will be disposed of. He is now out of the reach of any danger, and will have time to recover from his well-grounded fright.

Baumgarten was well posted as to what was going on. By what different visitors at the jail had said he knew what to expect, and he was only too glad to get hence. He talked but little on the journey, but told enough to show that he "took in the whole situation." In speaking of those who had visited him at the jail, he said that they had told him all sorts of things and asked him all sort of questions. Some urged him to tell the whole truth, as it would be better for him, and that if he didn't it would be much worse for him. He said he listened to all this, and let them have their own way about it, but was evidently sharp enough to know when they were giving him "talk" and when they meant business. He was wonderfully excited until he got inside of the Elkhorn jail, and did not feel safe for a moment until then, and feels still more secure now that he is in Milwaukee, where there is a strong force to see that no harm, except in accordance with law, falls upon him.

I wish to publicly express my gratitude to our friends for so much kindness as was shown during my husband's distressing and dangerous illness. To all who called so often with offers of sympathy and aid, to those who stood day and night over the sick bed with willing hands, to soothe pain, to the kind physician, friend as well and above all to Him who holds our lives in the hollow of His hand, and, who has seen fit to return life and reason, we offer thanks. MRS D A CUMMINGS.

CONNUBIAL CELEBRATION.

1854-1879.

On Monday evening the neighbors and friends of Mr and Mrs D C Burdick, of Milton, assembled at the spacious residence of that estimable couple, to commemorate the twenty-fifth aniversary of their marriage. One hundred and fifty invitations were sent out and there were something more than one hundred present, to participate in the "silver wedding" service and enjoy the pleasure incident to such a gathering. At the proper hour the host and hostess were invited to accept an elegant array of silver ware which their guests had seen fit to select as a token of esteem and friendship. The presentation was made by Rev. E M Dunn, in behalf of the donors, and Mr Burdick responded with brief remarks, expressing the thanks of himself and wife in a happy manner, his voice trembling with emotion. Rev A L P Loomis then read some lines written for the occasion by Mr A C Stannard, which were appropriate and well conceived. Refreshments were served and the evening passed in social pleasures interspersed with choice instrumental music by Mrs Adams and Miss Burdick. The guests departed with the expressed wish that Mr and Mrs Burdick might be spared to celebrate their golden wedding under as auspicious circumstances and amid as pleasureable surroundings as those that conspired to make their silver wedding anniversary so pleasant an event, to both themselves and their many friends. The following is the list of presents and the donors. Silver ice pitcher and goblets Milton neighbors, silver pickle castor and silver pie knife, Milton Junction friends, silver butter dish, "Ella and Clarence," silver mirror and stand, Mr and Mrs R Richardson, silver cake knife, Mr and Mrs A W Baldwin, silver berry spoon, Mr and Mrs C L Clark, silver pillow sham holders, Mr and Mrs D B Wood, silver napkin rings, Mr and Mrs W H Crane, silver fruit knife, Mr and Mrs E Searing.

GRANT'S OLD BOOM.

Mrs. P. Wallihan, of Footville, has in her possession a copy of The Daily Citizen published at Vicksburg, on the eve of the victorious boom of Grant's reunion directed against the city. The paper is placed upon our table by the courtesy of her son, Hon. O. F. Wallihan, and contains some pat reading now that there is a Grant boom of a more peaceable one than that which belched from cannon's mouth. When Vicksburg was taken the boys took possession of the printing office of the Citizen and found a form already standing dated July 2, 1863, and among other items was the following:

ON DIT—That the great Ulysses—the Yankee Generalissimo, surrounded Grant—has expressed his intention of dining in Vicksburg on Saturday next, and celebrating the 4th of July by agreed dinner and so forth. When asked if he would invite General Joe Johnston to join he said, "No! for fear there will be a row at the table." Ulysses must get in to the city before he dines with it. The way to cook a rabbit is first catch the rabbit, &c.

The boys in blue put the form to press and struck off a large number of copies on the same wall-paper which had been in use in that office for some time. Mr. Wallihan's nephew was the one who did the printing, and the only change in the paper was the addition of the following after the paragraph:

NOTE.

JULY 4th, 1863.

Two days bring about great changes. The banner of the Union floats over Vicksburg. General Grant has "caught the rabbit," he has dined in Vicksburg, and he did bring his dinner with him. The "Citizen" lives to see it. For the last time it appears on "wall-paper." No more will it eulogize the luxury of mule meat and diseased potatoes—urge Southern warriors to such diet never more. This is the last wall-paper edition, and is, excepting this note, from the types as we found them. It will be valuable hereafter as a curiosity.

REGULAR INDEPENDENT INCOMES,

Free from business troubles, are assured by prudent investments in stocks. From $2 to $5,000, in the new Mutual Capitalization System, pays handsome profits. Anybody can successfully operate by this new method, and receive a pro rata division of the aggregate profits secured by great concentration of capital. A Chicago bank cashier made $739.13 in a capitalization of $5. A Milwaukee Brewer netted $792.86 from an investment of $150 during the month of May. A Savannah gentleman netted $6310.12 from three capitalizations. The Stock market just now is in a condition to realize large profits by safe and judicious investments. New circular, "Rules for Success," and invaluable information to every investor mailed free. All kinds of Stocks and Bonds bought and sold by ADAMS, BROWN & Co., Bankers and Brokers, 26 & 28 Broad street, New York. oct6daw2w

STOCK OPERATIONS THAT PAY.

The past few weeks have been prolific of immense percentages of profits at the New York Exchanges, by the careful use of moderate sums in well manipulated stock transactions, which returned a legitimate gain on capital invested according to correct business principles. Great activity prevails in the market. The safest and most successful method for operating in a regular way is in financial Union by the Protective System of dealing in stocks, which affords absolute guarantees that cannot possibly be insured otherwise. The vast aggregates on the sales of shares that have recently attained such mighty proportions, have been chiefly promoted by the infusion of this new element, which has produced results surprising to all. The conservative basis of this system is its great safety. To be sure of gaining the large profits that accrue so quickly in stock movements, there must be reasonable protection against sweeping risks. This is why the Protective System excels all. On Monday three gentlemen in New York each invested $1,000 on Lake Shore stock by the Financial Union System, and on Thursday closed the operation with a net profit of $5,379.27 for each investor. Tuesday a bank cashier in Philadelphia put $3,500 in Protective Options on Northwestern stock, and on Saturday closed the contract with $12,685.75 profit. Early in the previous week two mechanics in Boston united their capital and invested $325 on Michigan Central, and 10 days afterwards they acknowledged receipt of $1,329.85 profits. The last week in July five farmers in Central New York invested $10 each in Financial Unions on St. Paul stock, and on Thursday, the 14th of August, they closed the deal and divided $18,000 equally between them. A lady in one of the departments in Washington used $40 for two weeks in Protectives on Western Union and Lake Shore stocks, and made a clean profit of $379.68. On Saturday a prominent Pennsylvania politician invested $1,500 in Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Michigan Central stocks, and in five days drew out of the market with $7,563.24 profit. A large brewer in St. Louis put $2,500 in Protectives on St. Paul and Northwestern stocks, and fifteen days afterward closed with a gain of $14,958.37. These are examples of what has been accomplished in Financial Union by the Protective System of operating in stocks when good advice has been followed. With the present activity the prospects for gain in the near future are more favorable, as the operations are equally as good for catching the profits from fluctuations up or down as they occur. Amounts from $25 to $25,000 or more can be invested with proportionate success by the Financial Union System on regular sales, that leave the control of funds in the hands of investors, with a definite knowledge at all times of just what stocks their money is on, so that they can see at a glance what their profits are at any hour of the day by referring to market quotations. All operators are assured of straightforward treatment by the Financial Union System. Orders filled and information furnished by Messrs. ITHAMAR DIBBELL & Co., Bankers and Brokers, No. 19 BROAD Street, New York City. oct3daw4w
